

CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

CodeML Hackathon
from October 7th to October 8th, 2023, at the Polytechnique Montréal
(the "CodeML Hackathon")

I, the undersigned, _____ (FIRST AND LAST NAME), residing and domiciled at _____ (ADDRESS) and participating in the Air Canada Cargo Hackathon, acknowledge that I will have access to certain information belonging to Air Canada (the "Company") during the CodeML Hackathon and understand that this information is confidential.

I acknowledge that all information belonging to the Company and kept confidential by the Company is confidential. Such information includes, but is not limited to, research, development, service offers and products, calendars, operations, procedures, marketing and commercial strategies and plans, business plans, unpublished budget estimates and financial statements, financial information, agreements, prices, rates and costs, suppliers and clients and purchases made by each client (the "Confidential Information").

The term "Confidential Information" does not include information that:

1. was known before the date of its receipt and for which written documentation establishing this prior knowledge is provided;
2. was known or accessible to the public before the date of its receipt; and
3. became known or accessible to the public after the date of its receipt, without any breach of this Confidentiality Statement.

I accept and agree to use the Confidential Information only and exclusively for the purposes of the Air Canada Cargo Hackathon and for no other purpose. I agree not to disclose, under any circumstances, all or part of the Confidential Information to third parties not participating in the Air Canada Cargo Hackathon and never to allow the Confidential Information to be reproduced in any form without prior written authorization from the Company concerned.

In the event that the use of the Confidential Information exceeds the scope of the Air Canada Cargo Hackathon, I agree to sign a formal confidentiality agreement with the Company that owns the Confidential Information in question.

Any Confidential Information, as well as all rights arising therefrom, that has been or will be disclosed by the Company during the Air Canada Cargo Hackathon is and remains the exclusive property of the disclosing Company. Nothing herein shall be construed as conferring upon me any title, ownership, licence or other right or interest over the Confidential Information, with the exception of the specific and restrictive right to consult and use any such Confidential Information strictly for the purposes of the Air Canada Cargo Hackathon.

Signed at Montreal on this ____ day of _____ 2023

Signature